Farmingville, NY – In keeping with the true spirit of the holiday season, Brookhaven residents opened their hearts in a big way by donating thousands of toys at the Town's INTERFACE Toy Drive. The event, held on December 15 in the lobby of Town Hall, was co-sponsored by the Town of Brookhaven Youth Bureau and JVC Broadcasting with on-air personalities from all five JVC radio stations broadcasting live throughout the day. According to the organizers, it was the most toys they ever collected in one day. Through raising donations, the Toy Drive will provide gifts for more than 7,500 children in need, ranging in age from infant to 15 years of age.
